A Great Rally at Boston Addressed by Edward M. Shepard and Garvin.

CAMPAIGNING IN VERMONT

Mr. Wilson Denies Roosevelt's Change of Position and Makes Sectional Appeal.

(By Associated Press.)
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., August 27.—The Democratic campaign in this State was begun to-day with a field day at Charles River Park. The principal speakers were Governor T. C. F. Garvin, of Rhode Island; Edward M. Sheppard, of New York; Congressman John R. Thayer, of Worcester, and former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Hamlin. Mr. Shepard said that the only request of the Democrats of to-day was that the United States government be placed on an even keel of law and or-der. He claimed that there could not be liberety where the strong oppressed liberety where the strong oppressed the weak, referring particularly to Cuba, the Phillplines and Panama. He declared that the United States government had given liberty to Cuba only as a last resort and after the strongest kind of pressure. PRESIDENT WAS FOR FREE TRADE. The speaker said that President Roosevelt began his political career as an advocate of froe trade, and that his first political speech was in favor of it, but after that he began to aspire for higher offices under a Republican admin-it, but after that he began to aspire for higher offices under a Republican administration, and was forced to adopt a higher tariff platform.

In closing, Mr. Shepard said that the barons of industry had bade President Roosevelt "take in his sails," and now we find the Republican party slicht, holding forth no relief to the laboring

FOR FREER FOREIGN TRADE FOR FREER FOREIGN TRADE.
Governor Garvin advocated freer foreigh trade as a boon to New Englind, which, he said, was losing its industries to other parts of the country. Wages in the South, he said, within our tariff wall are lower than in England, which is outside our wall, and has none of its own. New England industries are moving West, where wages are higher; as well as South, where they were lower.

RAISE SECTIONAL ISSUE. Secretary Wilson Defends Presi dent and Attacks South.

dent and Attacks South.

(By Associated Press.)

RANDOLPH, VT., Aug. 27.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson continued his campaign through the Green Mountain State with an address in this town to day on national issues, during which he denied the charge, which he said was made by former Senator Hill, that President Roosevelt promised when taking the oath of office at the death of President McKinley, not to run for the presidency at the end of his term. Secretary Wilson said that he was present at the time as a member of Mr. McKinley Scabinet and he was very emphatic that Mr. Roosevelt made no such statement.

ARRAYS THE TWO SECTIONS.

Taking up the Issue of the campaign, he said that the Democrats were naturally low tariff men. Before the war the party was built upon slave labor in the South, and now the low scale of wages in that section is a menace to industry in the North. The Democratic party has its headquarters in the South, if it should win, the South would furnish leaders, heads of committees and ideas of leagisa-its headquarters in the South. If it should win, the South would furnish leaders, heads of committees and ideas of legislation. Many of these leaders were raised at cross-roads, where they never shw a factory. The effect of the Solid South has been the Solid North in order that the Solid North may prevent mischlef that the Solid South would do. The back alleys of cities furnish the voting sprength of the Democratic party, said he. The Vermont and Iowa Democrat is an honest, respectable person, but he counts for nothing in his party.

PARKER MEETS SHEEHAN.

liam F. Sheehan, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic National Committee, on the political situation and the prospects in New England What Mr. Sheehan told Judge Parker could not be learned, as notither would talk for publication, but Mr. Sheehan has expressed himself as greatly encouraged by what he learned as to the situation in nearly all of the New England States, especially in Massachusetts.

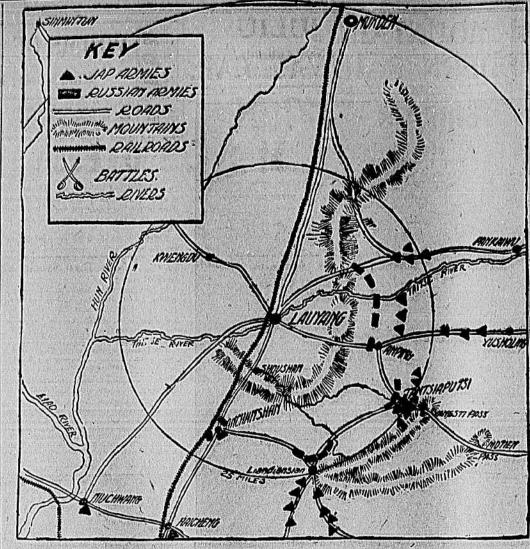

NULLIFIED THE CONSTITUTION.
John R. Dos Passos, of New York, a lawyer, spent several hours with Judge Parker this afternoon. He is a member of the newly organized Parker Constitutional Club of that city. Mr. Dos Passos discussed with Judge Parker what he regards as the unconstitutional trend of the Federal administration resembly, and it was said at Rosemount that he is preparing to publish soon his views on the subject.

NEW YORK, August 27.—August Belmont and Chairman Taggart were at Democratic headquarters very early today—so early, in fact, that they found only deserted rooms. At 9 o'clock lift. Sheehan, Delancy Nicoll and John R. McLean came in, and these members of the Executive Committee held a meeting and went over the campaign work to date, and discussed the programme for the future. Members of the Executive Committee expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with present conditions.

MAP OF OPERATIONS OF RUSSIAN AND JAPANESE FORCES NEAR LIAO YANG

PORT ARTHUR ON VERGE OF CAPTURE

A long official telegram has been received at the war office, but it does not give a hint of wint is transpiring to day. It is more than probable, however, that the Japanese have resumed their attempt to reach Liao Yang. The silence on this point of the special dispatches filed at Liao Yang this morning rather confirms valley of the Lan. a small tributary of the Taitse, around Tacgow, a place be-tween Apping and Liandiansian. General Kuroki's first aim, apparently, was to separate the two principal Russian posi-tions, as forecast in these dispatches August 26th. The Russians in the valley of the Lah lost 1,450 men.

Kuroki Stopped by Cossacks. Kuroki Stopped by Cossacks.
General Kuroki's army advanced in three strong columns, one northward along the valley of the Sinahla, a tributary of the Taitse, as rar as Liacintan, whence a portion of this force marched westward to Miao Pass, threatening Anshanshan; the öther portion pushing up the stream to Tunsinpu, four miles southwest of Liandiansian, where it was stopped by General Kuropatkin's Cossacks.
The second column marched along the high road and occupied Erdahe, shelled Liandiansian, a couple of miles northwest, until the fire of the Russian guns silenced them. Several Japanese batteries were completely dismantied, and were abandoned by their gunners.

were abandoned by their gunners.

Japs Seek Key of Situation.

The fighting at Tsegow was of the most desperate description. The Japanese had the advantage of the mountainous country, advancing along a ridge extending from Tantziaputzy to Sizolindzy. The latter glace is situated on the high road ten miles southeast of Liao Yang. Possession of this point would render Liandiansian and Anping untenable. It is not improbable that General Kuroki will therefore repeat his attack in this direction.

Bayonets Were Used.

Bayonets Were Used.

The absence of news of a Japanese movement along the Taitse River, in order to flank Liao Yang, confirms the latter view, as it would expose the attackers to being cut off by General Kuropatkin's army from the north. Towards the east the battle was especially severe. Bayonets were used and there the Russians lost a thousand men.

Poyodo mounted only two small guns when the Russians were in possession of it. The assault was preceded by heavy artillery fire from Takushan, where the Japanese have big naval guns. The Russians lost considerably before they were compelled to retire. The fort was not occupied by the Japanese, as it is behind a moat, which the Japanese in no instance have been able to cross.

ese drove the Russians from their posi-tions at Louisa Bay and Pigeon Hay, the Japanese vanguard, numbering 500 to 600 men, penetrating into the fort situated on the highest hill of the Liaoti mountain, the southermost mountain of the Kwang Tung peninsula. Incidentally, they cap-tured an uncompleted battery on the west shore of the Liaoti promontory, and then retired. The Japanese fleet during the attack made a demonstration against the main Liaoti fort. It is also con-firmed that the Japanese silenced a small fort near Golden Hill Over Three Miles From City.

Over Three Miles From City. Over Three Miles From City.

The Japanese line on the west is approximately, according to the advices received here, three and a half miles from the Duropean or new town, where there has been no conflagration, although numerous individual fires have occurred there. When the last arrivals left Port Arthur there was little firing.

The strength of the garrison is now estimated to be fifteen thousand eligient men.

On August Ed the Russians arrested four Japanese spies within the fortress and shot them. No Chinese except outbound servants are allowed in the European town, the Russians being afraid of smis.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, August 27.—Japan has addressed a note to the powers informing them that unless Russia forthwith disthem that unless Russia forthwith disarms her warships in Shanghai, Japan will be forced to take whatever steps she deems necessary to protect her interests. Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, called at the State Department to-day and left with Mr. Adee, the acting Secretary of State, the communication of the Tokio government.

To a correspondent of the Associated Press Mr. Takahira said to-night:

Will Televate No. Delay.

Will Tolerate No Delay.

"While Japan sincerely hopes that the reported intention of Russia to disarm the Askold and Grozovol at Shanghai will the Askold and Grozovol at Shanghai will did soldiers of Mecklenburg, for his the Askold and Grozovoi at Shanghal will promptly be executed, the government has felt that it was advisable to inform the powers what must necessarily be its attitude in the event that the disarmanent of the Russian ships is delayed. The conditions at Shanghal are peculiar of the many international interests there, and my government it is desirous of giving these interests every consideration."

consideration."
"Will it be necessary to send a Japan-ese squadron into Shanghai and take away the Russian ships, as was done with the Rysshiteini at Che Feo?" the minister was asked.

Do Not Specify Intention. Do Not Specify Intention.

"My government has not indicated in its note to the powers," the minister replied, "just what steps will be necessary if the Russian ships are not immediately disarmed. But it should be remembered that the Ryeshiteini was not completely disarmed when seized by the Japanese, and under the circumstances her presence in Che Foo was exceedingly disadvantageous to Japan for military reasons."

"It is understood that a similar note to that presented by Takahira to-day was also delivered at the various foreign of-fices/by Japan's diplomatic representa-

An Impromptu Bath. James Davis, colored, yesterday afternoon gave Annie Davis an impromptu bath by dipping her into a trough of cold water, so the warrant says. The woman resented the forceful insinuation, and the weather was cold, so he will have to answer for his alleged sins before Justice John to-morrow.
